

I support satellite radio. I am a professional over the road truck driver and if it wasnt for XM satellite broadcasting the weather and traffic reports life would basically suck for me. And I also think that it sucks that a bunch of morons think that the competition is going to ruin their whatever. I pay for the service and I believe that I am entitled to have weather and road reports.